Online Collegeboard AP Resources are also available at <https://apstudent.collegeboard.org/takingtheexam/preparing-for-exams>. Choosing to take an AP exam has multiple benefits for a high school student: Due to its academic rigor, taking an AP exam helps develop solid study habits, thus better preparing students for college. It also makes students stand out on their college applications. Additionally, if a student scores a 3, 4, or 5 on an AP exam, s/he can earn college credit and also skip introductory classes. This varies by college; please check with your college(s) of interest in that regard.

By signing below, both the student and parent acknowledge that they agree to comply with all guidelines of the Collegeboard Advanced Placement (AP) Program.
